DETECTIVE AND WOMAN PRISONER

Detective J. F. Pender and Deputy Sheriff J. J. Murphy left at 2:55 this afternoon for Omaha, to take into custody W. L. Seath and Helen Ellis, wanted in this city for grand larceny.

The trip means a journey of about two thousand miles to the officers and they are not expected to reach Omaha with their prisoners before Saturday or Sunday. One of the chief troubles of the trip is the inconvenience of traveling with a female prisoner. Detective Pender, who had had experience in such work, stated this morning that the trip would be anything but a pleasant one to him.

"There is always more or less trouble in guarding a woman prisoner on a train for such a long journey," said the officer. "It means a great many embarrassments and annoyances that would not occur were both the prisoners men like the trip but some one has got to take it."

The prisoners to be brought from Omaha to Ogden are charged with having stolen several hundred dollars worth of clothing and other articles from this city to Omaha by the Ogden police department and, on information furnished by the Ogden authorities, were apprehended by the Omaha police.

NOT GUILTY IS ALBERT THOMAS

The trial of Albert Thomas, charged with assaulting Louise Rummy, was heard before Justice of the Peace E. R. Thomas this morning, and the defendant was found not guilty.

The girl testified that, on August 9, she went buggy riding with Thomas, and that at a point near the mouth of Ogden canyon, late in the evening, he mistreated her and pushed her out of the buggy, leaving her in the roadway to make her way home as best she could. She said she made her way to a farm house near the foothills east of Ogden, where she was taken care of by the people residing there. She afterwards coming to Ogden and swearing to a complaint against Thomas.

Thomas denied the girl's story, and stated that he had in no way mistreated the young lady, and that he did not strike her or assault her in any way. After hearing the testimony the court immediately rendered a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was discharged.

BRIDGE ACROSS ARM OF THE BAY

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—The Southern Pacific railroad yesterday inaugurated a freight service over the Dumbarton bridge, which crosses the southern end of San Francisco bay. The bridge is a steel structure, with double tracks, 7,500 feet in length. Together with the cutoff line, which runs from Newark, in Alameda county, to Redwood City, in San Mateo county, it cost $4,000,000.

The cutoff is primarily for freight passage and will carry all northwestern and eastern shipments into and out of San Francisco. Hitherto freight has been ferried across the bay.

GREEK LEPER IS CAUGHT IN EAST

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A man believed to be John Kokas, the Greek leper of Salt Lake City, who broke quarantine there, evaded interception in Chicago and escaped eastward, was arrested here today as he was about to buy a ticket for Greece.

The man gave the name of Peter Coropulus of Salt Lake City, 30 years old, and denied vigorously that he was a leper. He was taken to a city hospital to be held for reexamination by Dr. L. Norman Bulkley, a specialist in skin diseases. The man's appearance was hideous. After a preliminary examination, the authorities say they believe he is a leper. He would not tell where he slept last night, but said he had arrived here yesterday, which would just about account for the time the leper would have taken to get here from Chicago.

"I know I am not a leper," said the man, "but I don't know what is the matter with me, and none of the doctors I have asked during the year and a half I have worked in the west have been able to tell me."

ROBBING THE GOVERNMENT

Sensational Revelation In Sugar Underweighing Frauds

New York, Sept. 13.—Sensational revelations of the methods employed in underweighing frauds were made on the witness stand today by James P. Hyland, who was an assistant government witness from 1891 to 1909, testifying at the trial of George E. Bedell, and other customs officials, on underweighing fraud charges. Hyland was asked if he had ever done any underweighing.

"I underweighed the very first cargo of sugar assigned to weigh," was the reply of the witness. He said he continued underweighing from that time on, receiving most of the corruption money from "Big George" Lunny, who has been described as "go-between" for importers and weighers in hitherto operations to secure underweights. The underweigher always got half the amounts of the duties out of which the government was defrauded, Hyland testified.

Hyland said that at one time he was not satisfied with the amount of his "share" of the fraud, and worked Bedell $50 a shift if he would have him transferred to a more fruitful field. The transfer was made, the witness testified. Bedell was chief clerk to Deputy Surveyor Vall. He paid Bedell, on the average, just what he promised to, Hyland declared.

HOW HIGH RATES WERE ARRIVED AT

New York, Sept. 13.—Inside light on how the higher freight tariffs were made up was shed by Charles F. Daly, vice-president of the New York Central lines, under cross-examination today before the Interstate Commerce commission now inquiring into the proposed increase in freight rates in the eastern territory.

Mr. Daly said each road had decided on its own increases in rates and the railroad representatives then met in this city to check up results and make the rates uniform.

"It would be suicidal for the roads to have a different rate," said Mr. Daly. "Protection of commercial interests in the different sections demands a uniform basis."

Counsel desired to know when the higher tariffs were decided upon and Mr. Daly said in June of this year. Counsel tried to learn if the advance was contemplated before the wage increase became a fact, but Mr. Daly refused to admit it. Replying to a question how the railroads had fixed the amount of increase to be borne by each class of freight, Mr. Daly said the railroads needed more money and apportioned their needs to the different class of freight as seemed best.

CALLS IT A "JOINT."

WAKEFIELD, R. I., Sept. 12.—"Probably guilty of maintaining a gambling nuisance and a gambling place," were the findings of the district court today in the case of W. H. Arnold, proprietor of the fashionable Narragansett club which was raided on August 6 when several prominent New York and Philadelphia society people were present. Bonds were furnished and Arnold was released.

Professor Brander Matthews of the English department of Columbia university, one of the witnesses for the prosecution, testified that in his opinion the club was a "joint."

"A joint," he explained, "is a place where men or women or either drunk or sober are stereotyped in to loose their money."

Robert F. Bollen, prominent in Philadelphia society circles, who had been summoned to attend the hearings, did not appear and the prosecution asked for a writ of arrest which was granted. The papers have not been served as yet.

WAKEFIELD, R. I., Sept. 12.—When the cases growing out of the raid on the fashionable Narragansett club by Constable John G. Criss, on the night of Aug. 6 last, resulting in the alleged discovery of evidence of gambling on a large scale, came up in the district court here today, Constable Criss took the stand and told the story of the raid.

GET-RICH-QUICK MAN ARRESTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—W. H. Holcomb, who is vice president of the United Exchange, capitalized at $20,000,000, is charged with violating the postal laws in the alleged conducting of a "get rich quick" scheme, was bound over to the federal grand jury today in bonds of $5,000.

Postoffice inspectors and former employees of the company testified before United States Commissioner Foote that Holcomb's scheme was all-embracing. There are practically no assets belonging to the concern, it is alleged, except the scheme itself.

Earl Smith, a postoffice inspector, testified that the picture of the company's alleged office, printed on its literature, was really a likeness of a railway ticket office in Los Angeles.

Holcomb said the big scheme itself constituted the company's assets. According to the witness the company planned to furnish information on any subject anywhere; to conduct country-wide railway and hotel advertising and a national system of garages; to accept sales agencies, to conduct tours and many other enterprises.

By cooperation of the agents in the various lines the investor was told that the company could furnish the various services cheaper than individuals. Holcomb is alleged to have sold considerable stock in the company.
